

A major health concern for field workers is pesticide control.

Thousands of them experience daily symptoms of pesticide poisoning.