

Chavez Hints Aid to G.O.P. Is Linked to Alien Problem

PHOENIX, Ariz., July 5 (UPI) —Cesar Chavez said today that he had asked the Justice Department to investigate a possible "correlation" between big donations to the Republican party and the Immigration and Naturalization Service's alleged lack of enforcement against illegal Mexican farm workers.

The United Farm Workers union leader told a news conference that he had sent a telegram to Attorney General Elliot L. Richardson urging the investigation.

Mr. Chavez said that the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, the farm union's major rival, and big growers had made substantial contributions to the Republican party.

He also said the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service had refused to enforce the laws against importation of Mexican nationals to work in the fields as "strike breakers."
