Capricorn Expedition (1952-1953)

Capricorn Expedition Photographs, 1952-1953

Physical Description: 7 boxes: 5 manuscript boxes and 2 archival shoeboxes

Description: The Capricorn Expedition was conducted as part of the joint Navy-Atomic Energy Commission Operation Ivy, the first thermonuclear test. The test was conducted in the Mid-Pacific. Two Scripps ships, HORIZON and SPENCER F. BAIRD were included in Capricorn Expedition. The expedition was the first Scripps expedition to include scientific scuba divers.

The accession consists of 227 original b/w negatives and prints of each negative. Original negative envelopes were identified with a sequential number and a title. The accession includes images of R/V SPENCER F. BAIRD and R/V HORIZON. There are photographs of Eniwetok, Samoa, Tahiti, Palmerston Island, Keppel Island, Kao Island, Alexa Bank, Necker Island and Falcon Islands. There are photographic of oceanographic equipment aboard ship, including core barrel, temperature probe, ball breaker and A-frame. The collection includes numerous photos of scuba divers, including many underwater images.

The photographs were all taken by professional photographers employed by the Scripps Institution, including John MacFall
